

Company register

The company register is a public registry provided by the law. It may be defined as the registrar of companies: it contains relevant information on the set-up, modification and cessation of all companies in any legal form and sector of economic activity, with headquarters or branches on the national territory.

It provides a complete picture of the legal situation of each company and is a critical database for entering into trade relations with Italian companies. It also provides indicators of economic and entrepreneurial development. It is managed by the Chambers of commerce nationwide.
